

Tariff Politics: An Insight into the Emerging New Economic World Order

April 17, 2025

Under the leadership of the 42nd National President, Ms. Poonam Sharma, FICCI FLO hosted a thought-provoking virtual session titled “Tariff Politics: An Insight into the Emerging New Economic World Order” with Mr. Nirav Panchmatia — renowned Podcaster, Financial Literacy Coach, and Personal Finance Professional.

Organised under the National Initiative on Academia, Industry & Government Collaboration, this session marked a significant step towards fostering constructive engagement among key stakeholders in today’s dynamic economic environment.

Mr. Panchmatia led a compelling discussion on global tariff trends, the impact on emerging markets, and strategic investment considerations. His lucid explanations and real-world examples provided participants with a clear understanding of how evolving tariff structures and trade policies shape global markets and influence individual investment decisions, particularly in the context of India’s economic landscape.

The session, attended by 339 FLO members from across the country, offered valuable, actionable insights on managing risks and seizing opportunities amid rising protectionism. A lively Q&A segment further enriched the experience, allowing attendees to delve deeper into India’s trade dynamics and learn strategies for safeguarding their portfolios in a shifting economic order.

The session was moderated by Initiative Lead, CA Shubhra Maheshwari, who was ably supported by her committed team — Ms. Priya Gazdar, Ms. Apoorva Kalra, Dr. Simarpreet Sandhu, Ms. Bhavani Mujakari, and Ms. Megha Suhas.

The event was very well-received and reaffirmed FLO's dedication to equipping its members with relevant economic insights, strengthening financial literacy, and promoting informed decision-making in an ever-evolving global economy.
